Cello Air Finance Eyes North American Market For Growth

Following an encouraging entry into Europe and the Middle East, UK based specialist Business and Utility Aircraft lessor, Cello Air Finance, is opening a new Dulles, Virginia office, to firmly establish itself within the North American Business Aviation market.

Michael Davies, CEO of Cello Air Finance:

'We have had a very encouraging first 9 months since our launch in February 2017, with the European & Middle East markets, being exceptionally receptive to the concept of Business Aircraft leasing.

The North American market is, and always has been, the primary market for business aircraft. As one of a handful of non-institutional lessors in the industry, it has been of our strategy to become an active player in the North American market within the first 12 months of business. We are very excited with our entry into this market and are looking forward to significant growth in our aircraft investment portfolio.'
